

DataCrawler Disclaimer

The "DataCrawler" Data Crawling Application ("DataCrawler") is a tool designed to facilitate the collection of publicly available scientific data from various online repositories. Before using DataCrawler, please carefully read and understand the following disclaimer. By accessing and using DataCrawler, you agree to be bound by this disclaimer.

1. Purpose of DataCrawler:

DataCrawler is intended solely for the purpose of collecting publicly available scientific data from repositories that are accessible to the general public. It is not intended for any unauthorized access to restricted or private data, and its use in such a manner is strictly prohibited.

2. Legal Compliance:

Users of DataCrawler are responsible for ensuring their compliance with all applicable laws, regulations, and terms of use governing the repositories from which they intend to collect data. DataCrawler shall not be used for any activities that violate the terms of use of the repositories or any laws related to data collection, privacy, intellectual property, or any other relevant legal provisions.

3. Data Usage and Ownership:

DataCrawler does not claim ownership over any data collected through its usage. The ownership, rights, and responsibilities for the collected data remain with the original data sources and repositories. Users are advised to review the terms of use and licensing agreements associated with the collected data, and to respect any attribution requirements specified by the data sources.

4. Accuracy and Reliability:

DataCrawler strives to provide accurate and reliable data crawling services. However, it cannot guarantee the accuracy, completeness, or timeliness of the data collected. Users acknowledge that DataCrawler does not endorse, verify, or independently validate the content of the collected data, and reliance on such data is at the user's own risk.

5. Limitation of Liability:

To the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, DataCrawler and its developers shall not be held liable for any direct, indirect, incidental, special, consequential, or exemplary damages, including but not limited to, damages for loss of profits, goodwill, use, data, or other intangible losses, resulting from the use or inability to use DataCrawler or the data collected through it.

6. User Responsibilities:

Users of DataCrawler are solely responsible for their actions and usage of the application. Users agree not to engage in any unlawful, unethical, or malicious activities, including but not limited to, data scraping for commercial gain without proper authorization, infringement of intellectual property rights, or any activity that may cause harm to repositories or individuals.

7. Modifications and Termination:

DataCrawler's developers reserve the right to modify, suspend, or terminate the application at any time without prior notice. Additionally, access to DataCrawler may be denied or revoked if users are found to be in violation of this disclaimer or engaged in activities that breach applicable laws or terms of use.

By proceeding to use DataCrawler, you acknowledge that you have read, understood, and agreed to this disclaimer. If you do not agree with any part of this disclaimer, you are advised to refrain from using DataCrawler.

8. Reference to NCBI's Disclaimer:

Users of the "DataCrawler" Data Crawling Application are hereby directed to review and adhere to the disclaimer provided by the National Center for Biotechnology Information (NCBI) regarding the usage of its services and data. NCBI's disclaimer, which can be accessed at <https://www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/home/about/policies/>, outlines their terms, conditions, and policies governing the access and utilization of their data and resources.

DataCrawler users are advised that any data collected from NCBI repositories must be used in accordance with NCBI's policies and guidelines. DataCrawler's developers do not assume responsibility for any discrepancies, conflicts, or non-compliance with NCBI's policies, and users are strongly encouraged to review NCBI's disclaimer to ensure proper usage and compliance.

By continuing to use DataCrawler to access data from NCBI or any other repositories, users acknowledge that they have been directed to review NCBI's disclaimer and agree to abide by its terms in conjunction with the terms of this disclaimer.

9. Reference to Broad Institute's Single-Cell Portal Terms of Service:

Users of the "DataCrawler" Data Crawling Application are directed to review and adhere to the Terms of Service provided by the Broad Institute's Single-Cell Portal. The Single-Cell Portal's Terms of Service can be accessed at <https://singlecell.zendesk.com/hc/en-us/articles/360060798672-Terms-of-Service>. These terms outline the conditions under which users may access and utilize the data and resources available through the Single-Cell Portal.

It is important for users to understand and comply with the Single-Cell Portal's Terms of Service when accessing data from this repository using the "DataCrawler" application. The developers of DataCrawler are not responsible for any violations or non-compliance with the Single-Cell Portal's Terms of Service, and users are strongly encouraged to review these terms to ensure proper usage and adherence.

By choosing to use DataCrawler to collect data from the Broad Institute's Single-Cell Portal or any other repositories, users acknowledge that they have been directed to review the Single-Cell Portal's Terms of Service and agree to abide by its terms in conjunction with the terms of this disclaimer.

For inquiries or concerns, please contact Rancho Biosciences at DataCrawler@ranchobiosciences.com

This disclaimer is subject to change without notice. It is your responsibility to review this disclaimer periodically for updates.